We play an eclectic swath of music owing to our unusual instrumentation (banjo + drums) and love of everything from ZZ Top to traditional Irish folk tunes. The band's sound is heavily influenced by Matt and Chelsea's love for singing together (lots of harmony), and the Americana experience of moving every 3-5 years for 20 years to places with distinct cultures, scenes, tastes, and genres. Simply put, we like lots of music and can't wait to share that love with you. New to Alaska, we are very excited to be included in this year's Crab Festival and hope you will see much more of us around town in the near future.
